

A Life Lesson from Herman Munster to his son Eddie – “It doesn’t matter what you look like, you can be tall or short, or fat or thin, or ugly or handsome (like your father), or you can be black or yellow or white, it doesn’t matter. What does matter is the size of your heart and the strength of your character”.

Remember ‘The Munsters’ TV show which ran in the mid-60’s? Some fifty years later, and I can’t think of words any more pertinent for today’s times. Because of Covid, we’ve all had to go through a lot of changes in the past six months, both personally and professionally. I have been looking back at our year to date thus far at JDEtips and trying to imagine the future months. And as I reflect, I realize how truly awesome everyone has been and continues to be. Our clients, consultants and business partners have all been so understanding and truly professional as we navigate this new world, making adjustments along the way. We are all working together to get through this thing and on with our professional lives. Thank you!

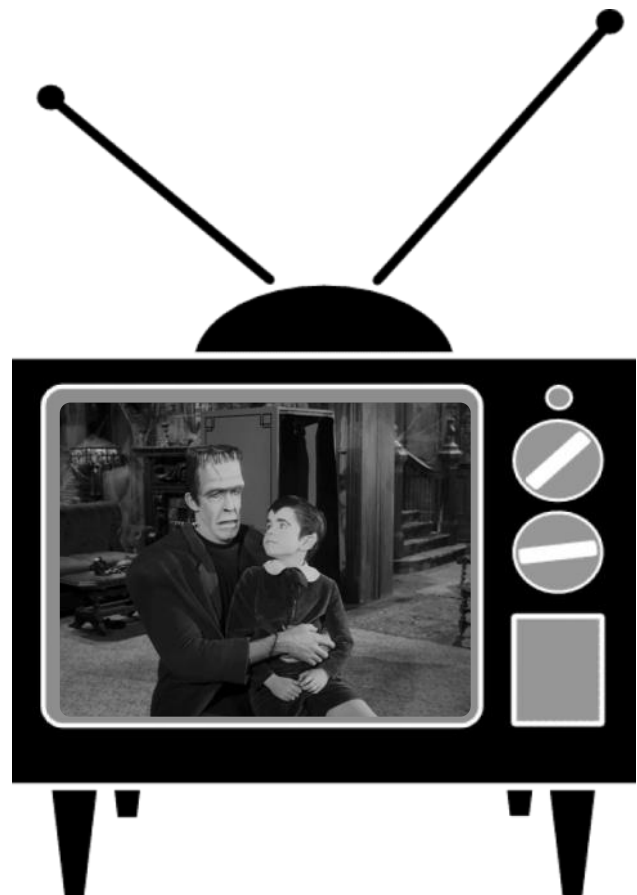

And the staff at JDEtips? Unwavering dedication and loyalty despite many adjustments and hardships. An old boating friend of mine used to say that patience will always be rewarded. Of course, he was referring to weather windows for safe ocean passages, but maybe that’s another way of looking at where we are now.

So back to Herman Munster, it is indeed the size of our hearts and the strength of our character! We must continue to be kind to one another, continue to be calm, and we will all get through this together.

Cheers!
